RE: U.S.A. v. Matthew Martoma

Dear Judge Swain:

Recently I saw an article in the Law Journal with reference to SAC Capital Corporation out of Stamford, Connecticut wherein it paid a substantial fine for insider trading. I am not positive, but I believe the above criminal proceeding was tried before Your Honor and Mr. Martoma was found guilty of insider trading. He was an employee of SAC Capital Corporation. The stock involved was Elan Corporation. My wife and I lost over $10,000.00 because of the insider trading activity. Several years ago, the stock dropped from $30.00 to $10.00 in about 15 minutes and, as indicated, that caused my wife and I to loose over $10,000.00. I am sending this letter to Your Honor in the hope that it may be referred to the appropriate department to make repayment of our loss part of the probation sentence.

I previously wrote to Antonia Apps, Esq. and Ms. Wendy Olsen concerning this request, but never received a response.

Respectfully submitted,

Louis J. Castellano, Jr.
